Where sentinels once guarded
Thy armaments of yore ...

Now each fall in the A.C. Quadrangle, members of the Augusta College community gather with those from the Augusta community for an evening of fun and fund raising. Such activities are in keeping with our tradition: historically, our philosophy is that of ... turning swords into plowshares.

Galloway Hall

Norman Lochridge Galloway
1897-1979

In the histories of Richmond Academy, The Junior College of Augusta, and Augusta College few teachers and administrators have been as well loved and respected as Norman Lochridge Galloway. Students and peers were enthusiastic in their praise of this gentle scholar. He was superior in presenting material in his classes, an active supporter of extra curricular activities, and a friend to all. From his first years in Augusta he constantly worked for improvement in the quality of education and in the general welfare of the faculty. Students frequently sought his counsel and received assistance in solving both academic and personal problems. This relationship continued when he was appointed the College's first dean of students, a position that he held until his retirement.

Ronald F. Galloway, Jr. unveils plaque commenorating his grandfather.

President George A. Christenberry leads the dedication ceremony.

Dr. Ronald F. Galloway expresses appreciation on behalf of the Galloway family.

EDITOR'S NOTE

I would like to thank everyone who helped me in producing the 1982-83 White Columns. Taking over the yearbook in January of 1983, was a challenge to say the least. Had it not been for the generosity and patience of a number of persons, I could not have pulled it off at all. I am especially appreciative for my secretary, Mrs. Mary Dickson, Brenda Smart, the Advertisement Representative and Mrs. Dee Davis, the College's Publications Director. Pages 16-32 were done by the students who started as student editors and later resigned.

I am very appreciative for the patience the faculty showed as they allowed me to interrupt their classes for candid shots. While the task of taking over a thousand photos was awesome, the pleasure of meeting and talking to faculty and students was a good experience.

Here's hoping that the White Columns might be better and earlier next year.

Sincerely,
Roscoe Williams

Augusta College Alma Mater

Where sentinels once guarded
Thy armaments of yore,
Now aged oaks sublimely
Bespeak a lofty lore.
(Chorus)

CHORUS:
All hail, Augusta College
Our voices now we raise
To give thee, Alma Mater,
Our fervent love and praise.

And we, thy sons and daughters,
Who pass thy portals through,
Will keep thy inspiration
With honor high and true.
(Chorus)

Thy sword is now a plowshare,
And peace enshrines thy name;
The flag unfurled above thee
Adds glory to thy fame.
(Chorus)
